Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 26 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry days with plenty of sunshine and feeling mild.

Today:
After a frosty start it will be a fine and bright day with plenty of sunny spells across the region. Patchy cloud developing in the afternoon but staying dry. Winds remaining light and feeling mild in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry evening with clear skies overnight. Feeling cold with light winds allowing for frost and localised fog patches to form. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Saturday:
A bright start for many with plenty of sunshine throughout the day. Cloud will gradually move in from the north during the afternoon but remaining dry. Staying mild. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Fine and dry on Sunday with sunny spells. Perhaps cloudier on Monday and Tuesday but staying dry with light winds. Mild throughout, with overnight frosts and fog patches possible.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.